During World War II, the US Army Air Forces (AAF) trained over 21,000 aircrew members from 29 Allied countries. The two largest programs, 79 percent of those trained, were for Britain and France. The Royal Air Force (RAF), fully engaged against the German Air Force by December 1940, was not able to train new aircrews. The British government asked the United States to train new pilots until it could get its own flight training program underway.

This book tells for the first time the story of the RAF and Free French flight training programs in central Alabama, covering the origins, the issues, and the problems that occurred during the training programs, and the results and lessons learned.

Dr. Robert B. Kane holds bachelor, master's, and doctorate degrees in European history. He spent 27 years in the Air Force between 1976 and 2003, retiring as a lieutenant colonel. An Air Force historian since July 2005, he presently serves as the Chief Historian, Air University, Maxwell AFB, AL.

The devil is seeking to destroy homes. A family; man, woman and children, is the foundation and one of the main elements of the survival of the Earth. Diary of a Hurt and Confused Wife shows how a home can be easily destroyed. Steeping with personal life stories, biblical references, 40-day devotional and prayer, this book is a powerful tool in the home of any woman who has been through a rough marriage and is seeking to improve herself. All marriages are worth that one last try, that one last effort; but first, you have to heal your own broken heart before you can heal your marriage. Use the eyes of the two authors to see what you might not see in yourself and your marriage.
